1. The opportunity

We are recruiting a Non-executive Director for Barking, Havering and Redbridge University Hospitals NHS Trust (BHRUH). This is an exceptional opportunity to share your talents and expertise to make a positive difference to the lives of people in your community.

BHRUH provides acute hospital care to the populations of Barking and Dagenham, Havering and Redbridge in outer east London, and in west Essex. The Trust also provides regional neuroscience and cancer specialist services and operates a specialist stroke service for a wider population.

2. The person specification

Essential criteria

You will need to have a genuine commitment to patients and the promotion of excellent health care services.

You will have experience of chairing committees and an awareness of the health and care sectors, enabling you to constructively challenge and work collaboratively throughout the organisation to help the Trust develop and deliver its strategic plans.

Experience of operating at Board level, managing complex change and transformation is required and it would be helpful if you already have been a NED, Trustee or Governor.

All Non-executive directors must champion the standards of public life – by upholding the highest standards of conduct and displaying the principles of selflessness, integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, honesty, and leadership.

As a future NHS leader, the successful candidate will be able to demonstrate the range of behaviours required to contribute effectively in this board level role. These are outlined in the NHS Leadership Academy's Healthcare Leadership Model.

Applicants should live in or have strong connections with London and the west Essex area or the neighbouring areas.

3. About Barking, Havering and Redbridge University Hospital NHS Trust

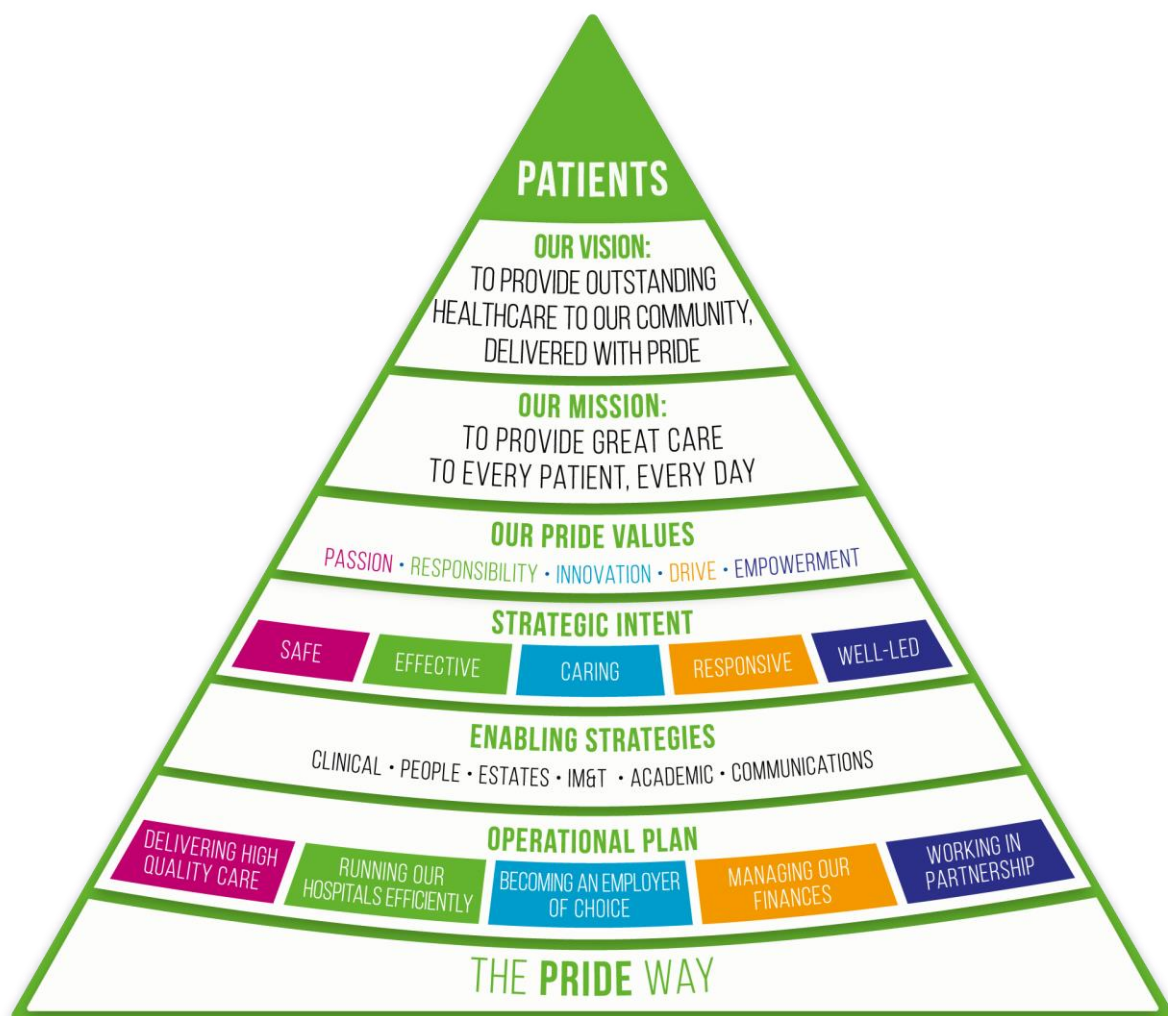

BHRUH provides care to a community of around 750,000 people, which includes some of the most vulnerable people living in London. The size of the Trust's local population is predicted to increase by more than ten percent in the next ten years.

Services are provided from Queen's Hospital in Romford and King George Hospital in Goodmayes and in some community settings.

Over the past three years BHRUH has improved its rating with the Care Quality Commission (CQC) from Inadequate to Requires Improvement and in March 2017 the Trust was proud to be lifted out of 'special measures' status by NHS Improvement, reflecting the significant progress made. In tandem it has improved its operational and financial systems and has plans in place to support it to perform effectively against constitutional standards. The Trust met its financial control requirements in each of the past two financial years and is on plan for the current year although it will need to deliver significant productivity improvements.

BHRUH's improvement journey continues in partnership with the Virginia Mason Institute (VMI) based in Seattle. It is one of only five hospital Trusts in the UK to have this arrangement. This relationship with VMI gives the trust the opportunity to put in place a quality improvement culture that will benefit patients, staff and visitors by concentrating on safety, value and learning. The PRIDE Way – BHRUH's adaptation of the Virginia Mason system – has become its change management approach and a fundamental part of Trust culture. By linking together BHRUH's vision, values, strategy and operational plan the Trust has put the patient at the heart of everything it does.

3.1. The Trust's vision, values and priorities:

BHRUH's vision is to provide outstanding healthcare to its community, delivered with pride. It is driven by PRIDE values and behaviours which were developed together with its staff; Passion, Responsibility, Innovation, Drive and Empowerment.

4. Key challenges

With the lifting of special measures in March 2017, the Trust's focus is to continue to build operational resilience so that the foundations are in place for strategic development and securing long-term sustainability. The Trust seeks to improve the CQC rating from 'requires Improvement' to 'good' within the next 18 months. Its Clinical Services Strategy was recently refreshed and the Operational Plan for 2017-19 has just been published.

Delivering the Clinical Services Strategy will enable the Trust to further embed safety systems and processes, bridge the health demand and capacity gap, develop system wide leadership capability and capacity, and address workforce demand whilst meeting NHS constitutional standards and financial obligations.

The Trust anticipates further clinical reconfiguration including King George Hospital becoming a centre of excellence for elective care, long term conditions and care of the elderly and for Queen's Hospital to become a centre of excellence for emergency, maternity and paediatric care. The development of the East London Health & Care Partnership (North East London Sustainability and Transformation Plan) and the Barking and Dagenham, Havering and Redbridge Integrated Care Partnership presents further opportunities to shape the future of healthcare that the Trust provides.

Appendix 1: Role and responsibilities

2.1 Role of the NHS Board

NHS Boards play a key role in shaping the strategy, vision and purpose of an organisation. They hold the organisation to account for the delivery of strategy and ensure value for money. They are also responsible for assuring that risks to the organisation and the public are managed and mitigated effectively. Led by an independent chair and composed of a mixture of both executive and independent non-executive members, the Board has a collective responsibility for the performance of the organisation.

The purpose of NHS Boards is to govern effectively, and in so doing build patient, public and stakeholder confidence that their health and healthcare is in safe hands. This fundamental accountability to the public and stakeholders is delivered by building confidence:

- in the quality and safety of health services
- that resources are invested in a way that delivers optimal health outcomes
- in the accessibility and responsiveness of health services
- that patients and the public can help to shape health services to meet their needs
- that public money is spent in a way that is fair, efficient, effective and economic.

2.2 Roles and responsibilities of the non-executive director

Non-executive directors will work alongside other non-executives and executive directors as an equal member of the Board. They share responsibility with the other directors for the decisions made by the Board and for success of the organisation in leading the local improvement of healthcare services for patients. Non-executives use their skills and personal experience as a member of their community to:

- Formulate plans and strategy
  - bringing independence, external perspectives, skills, and challenge to strategy development
- Ensure accountability
  - holding the executive to account for the delivery of strategy
  - providing purposeful, constructive scrutiny and challenge

- chairing or participating as a member of key committees that support accountability
- being accountable individually and collectively for the effectiveness of the Board
- Shape culture and capability
  - actively supporting and promoting a healthy culture for the organisation which is reflected in their own behaviour
  - providing visible leadership in developing a healthy culture so that staff believe NEDs provide a safe point of access to the Board for raising concerns
  - ensuring the directors of the Board are 'fit and proper' for the role and champion an open, honest and transparent culture within the organisation
- Context
  - mentoring less experienced NEDs where relevant
- Process, structures and intelligence
  - satisfying themselves of the integrity of reporting mechanisms, and financial and quality intelligence including getting out and about, observing and talking to patients and staff
  - providing analysis and constructive challenge to information on organisational and operational performance
- Engagement
  - ensuring that the Board acts in best interests of patients and the public
  - being available to staff if there are unresolved concerns
  - showing commitment to working with key partners

In particular the responsibilities of non-executive directors are to:

- commit to working to, and encouraging within the Trust, the highest standards of probity, integrity and governance and contribute to ensuring that the Trust's internal governance arrangements conform with best practice and statutory requirements

- provide independent judgement and advice on issues of strategy, vision, performance, resources and standards of conduct and constructively challenge, influence and help the executive board develop proposals on such strategies to enable the organisation to fulfil its leadership responsibilities to patients, for healthcare of the local community
- ensure that patients and service users are treated with dignity and respect at all times, and that the patient is central to trust decision making
- ensure that the Board sets challenging objectives for improving its performance across the range of its functions
- structure the performance of management in meeting agreed goals and objectives
- in accordance with agreed board procedures, monitor the performance and conduct of management in meeting agreed goals and objectives and statutory responsibilities, including the preparation of annual reports and annual accounts and other statutory duties
- ensure that financial information is accurate and that financial controls and risk management systems are robust and defensible and that the Board is kept fully informed through timely and relevant information (you may be asked to sit on the audit committee on behalf of the Board)
- accept accountability to the NHS Improvement for the delivery of the organisation's objectives and ensure that the Board acts in the best interests of patients and its local community
- contribute to the determination of appropriate levels of remuneration for executive directors
- participate in the audit committee and take an active part in other committees (including the investment and remuneration committees) established by the Board of directors to exercise delegated responsibility
- as a member of board committees, appoint, remove, support, encourage and where appropriate "mentor" senior executives
- bring independent judgement and experience from outside the Trust and apply this to the benefit of the Trust, its stakeholders and its wider community
- assist fellow directors in providing entrepreneurial leadership to the Trust within a framework of prudent and effective controls, which enable risk to be assessed and managed

- assist fellow directors in setting the Trust's values and standards and ensure that its obligations to its stakeholders and the wider community are understood and fairly balanced at all times
- ensure that the organisation values diversity in its workforce and demonstrates equality of opportunity in its treatment of staff and patients and in all aspects of its business
- engage positively and collaboratively in board discussion of agenda items and act as an ambassador for the Trust in engagement with stakeholders including patients and the local community, dealing with the media when appropriate.

Appendix 2: The seven principles of public life

The principles of public life apply to anyone who works as a public office-holder and therefore will apply to the successful candidate for this role:

- selflessness - holders of public office should act solely in terms of the public interest
- integrity - holders of public office must avoid placing themselves under any obligation to people or organisations that might try inappropriately to influence them in their work. They should not act or take decisions in order to gain financial or other material benefits for themselves, their family, or their friends. They must declare and resolve any interests and relationships
- objectivity - holders of public office must act and take decisions impartially, fairly and on merit, using the best evidence and without discrimination or bias
- accountability - holders of public office are accountable to the public for their decisions and actions and must submit themselves to the scrutiny necessary to ensure this
- openness - holders of public office should act and take decisions in an open and transparent manner. Information should not be withheld from the public unless there are clear and lawful reasons for so doing
- honesty - holders of public office should be truthful
- leadership - holders of public office should exhibit these principles in their own behaviour. They should actively promote and robustly support the principles and be willing to challenge poor behaviour whenever it occurs

The Commissioner for Public Appointments would like to find out what you think of the public appointments process. When you have completed the process, the Commissioner would appreciate a few minutes of your time to complete a survey. Your response will be anonymous and will inform the Commissioner's ongoing work with Government Departments to improve the public appointments process.

Given the significant public profile and responsibility members of NHS Boards hold, it is vital that those appointed inspire confidence of the public, patients and NHS staff at all times. New regulations now require NHS Improvement to make a number of specific background checks to ensure that those we appoint are “fit and proper” people to hold these important roles. For more information please contact leslie.horn@nhs.net

Appendix 3: Terms and conditions of appointment

- The remuneration payable for this role is £6,157 per annum.
- On average this role will require a time commitment equivalent to 2 to 3 days a month.
- Your appointment will be for an initial period of up to four years, after which you may be considered for further terms of office, subject to the needs of the organisation and a good performance

About NHS Improvement

NHS Improvement is responsible for overseeing Foundation Trusts, NHS Trusts and independent providers. We offer the support these providers need to give patients consistently safe, high quality, compassionate care within local health systems that are financially sustainable. By holding providers to account and, where necessary, intervening, we help the NHS to meet its short-term challenges and secure its future.

NHS Improvement is the operational name for the organisation that brings together Monitor, NHS Trust Development Authority, Patient Safety, the National Reporting and Learning System, the Advancing Change team and the Intensive Support Teams.
