Ministerial message to candidates

Dear Candidate

Thank you for your interest in becoming a Secretary of State appointed member of a National Park Authority and/or Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) Conservation Board.

I am looking for a wide range of passionate and committed individuals who want to help shape the strategic direction of our National Park Authorities and AONB Conservation Boards. As a Secretary of State appointed member, you will have the opportunity to help conserve and enhance our most treasured landscapes now and for future generations. I welcome applications from people who have a clear understanding of land management, rural communities, as well as protection and enhancement of the environment.

We have recently released the 25 Year Plan for the Environment, setting out how we will improve the environment over a generation by creating richer habitats for wildlife, improving air and water quality and connecting people with nature.

If you have the knowledge, skills and experience required to contribute to the life of the nation's National Parks and AONBs and would derive satisfaction from public service, we very much look forward to receiving an application from you.

Lord Gardiner of Kimble

Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Rural Affairs and Biosecurity

Introduction to NPA and AONBs

There are ten National Parks (including the Broads), and two Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) Conservation Boards in England. National Parks and AONBs have been in existence since 1949. That year saw the passing of the National Parks and Access to the Countryside Act, which enabled the designation of National Parks and AONBs in England and Wales. The Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 permitted AONBs to form Conservation Boards to aid management, particularly in cases where AONBs cross several administrative boundaries. In 2004, Conservation Boards were created for the Chilterns AONB and Cotswolds AONB.

The landscapes of National Parks and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty are protected because of their beautiful countryside, wildlife and cultural heritage. However, our National Parks and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty are not wildernesses. People live and work in them. The farms, villages and towns are protected along with the landscape and wildlife. The AONBs take account of the need to safeguard agriculture, forestry and other rural industries and the economic and social needs of local communities. National parks and AONBs welcome visitors and provide opportunities for everyone to enjoy them and learn about their special qualities.

National Parks are administered by individual National Park Authorities. The Chilterns and Cotswolds AONBs are each administered by a Conservation Board. Each National Park Authority/AONB Conservation Board is managed by members and staff. There are typically between 18 and 30 appointed Members who are supported by, and take advice from staff. Members make decisions about what the National Park Authority/AONB Conservation Board should do to deliver its purposes. Members are appointed by Defra's Secretary of State, local authorities or parish councils.

Staff members carry out the necessary work to run the National Parks/AONBs and support and advise the Members. Staff includes ecologists, rangers, planners and education specialists.

Although Defra works closely with National Park Authorities and the AONB Conservation Boards, they are independent bodies and it is for them to consider how they achieve their statutory purposes; the Secretary of State does not intervene in their day-to-day affairs.

Defra encourages National Park Authorities/AONB Conservation Boards to maximise funding from a full range of sources in order to help deliver their statutory purposes; there are opportunities for National Park Authorities/AONB Conservation Boards to generate commercial and philanthropic income to supplement the grant they receive from Government.

Please see vision statement of the National Parks in Annex A, and the vision statements of the Chilterns and Cotswolds AONB Conservation Boards respectively in Annex B and Annex C.

Statutory Purposes of the NPAs and AONBs

  - increase the understanding and enjoyment by the public of the AONB's special qualities.
