We value and promote diversity and are committed to equality of opportunity for all and appointments made on merit. We believe that the best boards are those that reflect the communities they serve.

We particularly welcome applications from women, people from the local black and minority ethnic communities, and disabled people who we know are under-represented in chair and non-executive roles.

Our recruitment processes are conducted in accordance with the Code of Governance to ensure that they are made on merit after a fair and open process so that the best people, from the widest possible pool of candidates, are appointed.

1. The opportunity

We are recruiting a Non-executive director to join the board of London Ambulance Service NHS Trust (LAS). This is an exceptional opportunity to share your talents and expertise to make a positive difference to the lives of people in your community. There is also an opportunity for appointment as an Associate Non-executive director as part of this process.

The Associate Non-executive director role is used successfully in the NHS to support Board succession strategy and achieving a balance of Board level skills. Associate Non-executive directors cannot participate in any formal vote at Board.

The successful candidate for the Associate role will be appointed by the Trust but may also be considered for appointment as a Non-executive director of the Board in future, should a vacancy arise and they have the appropriate skills.

2. The person specification

Essential criteria

You will need to have a genuine commitment to patients and the promotion of excellent health care services. You will have clinical and patient safety expertise with an understanding of clinical and corporate governance.

You will be able to demonstrate an understanding of the challenges and opportunities faced by ambulance trusts. You will also be interested in understanding how technological advances can improve patient experiences.

You will need to be able to demonstrate you can use your experience to:

- work alongside other non-executives and executive colleagues as an equal member of the board
- bring independence, external perspectives, skills and challenge to strategy development
- hold the executive to account by providing purposeful, constructive scrutiny and challenge
- shape and actively support a healthy culture for the trust

All non-executive directors must champion the standards of public life – by upholding the highest standards of conduct and displaying the principles of selflessness, integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, honesty, and leadership.

As a future NHS leader, the successful candidate will be able to demonstrate the range of behaviours required to contribute effectively in this board level role. These are outlined in the NHS Leadership Academy's Healthcare Leadership Model.

Applicants should live in or have strong connections with London.

- On average this role will require the equivalent to 2 to 3 days a month.
- The remuneration payable for this role is £6,157 per annum.

Given the significant public profile and responsibility members of NHS Boards hold, it is vital that those appointed inspire confidence of the public, patients and NHS staff at all times. NHS Improvement makes a number of specific background checks to ensure that those we appoint are “fit and proper” people to hold these important roles. More information can be found on our website. These checks will be made in advance of shortlisted candidates being interviewed.

3. About London Ambulance Service NHS Trust

LAS is the largest and busiest ambulance service in the UK and the only London-wide NHS Trust. It has over 5,300 staff and over 1,100 vehicles providing a 24/7 service for Londoners, commuters and visitors to the capital. LAS covers around 620 square miles and work from 70 bases. The trust's fleet is being constantly developed and now includes: 446 ambulances, 208 cars, 21 motorbikes and 78 bicycles.

In 2017/18 LAS answered 1.9 million 999 calls and attended 1.2 million incidents. The trust's NHS 111 service answered 356,826 calls.

LAS's main role is to respond to emergency 999 calls, getting medical help to patients with serious or life-threatening injuries or illnesses as quickly as possible.

However, many of its patients have less serious illnesses or injuries, and do not need to be sent an ambulance on blue lights and sirens. LAS has a range of clinicians and vehicles to respond to less urgent situations and is providing an increasing amount to telephone only support.

To meet the emergency and urgent care needs of all Londoners LAS provides the following services:

- Taking and prioritising 999 calls
- 999 emergency and urgent care responses (See and treat support)
- Clinical telephone advice – (Hear and treat support; providing advice to people with less serious illnesses and injuries that don't need a paramedic to be sent to them)
- Dispatching and providing paramedics for London's Air Ambulance

- NHS integrated urgent care /111 service in north east and south east London
- Planning for, and responding to, large-scale events and major incidents

Vision and three strategic themes

LAS has four goals:

- Provide outstanding care for its patients
- Be a first class employer, valuing and developing the skills, diversity and quality of life of its people
- Provide the best possible value for the tax paying public, who pay for what it does
- Partner with the wider NHS and public sector to optimise healthcare and emergency services provision across London

LAS's vision is to be a world class ambulance service for a world class city: London's primary integrator of access to urgent and emergency care 'on scene', 'on phone' and 'on line'

LAS's strategy is an essential part of delivering on the goals of co-ordinating urgent and emergency care pathways, delivering more care on scene and avoiding unnecessary attendance at emergency departments. The trust will provide the right care at the right time, enabling rapid access to the most appropriate patient care, through three strategic themes:

1. Comprehensive urgent and emergency care coordination, access, triage and treatment, with multichannel access for patients
2. A world class urgent and emergency response with enhanced treatment at scene and for critically ill patients a faster conveyance to hospital
3. Collaborate with NHS, emergency services and London system partners to provide more consistent, efficient and equitable services to Londoners

Delivering these three strategic themes will result in significantly improved patient care, a reduction in unnecessary conveyances to emergency departments and better use of trust resources and best value for money for the urgent and emergency care system and the taxpayers who pay for it. The collective benefit of these initiatives will reduce the number of crew hours required to respond to increasing demand, allowing for more efficient use of trust resources. Over time the trust will review the make-up of its fleet and estate to ensure that its resources are helping LAS to deliver the response required by its population.

Values and behaviours

LAS can only realise its vision through the adaptability, determination, flexibility and engagement of its people: how the trust's people feel about working for it; how new people feel about coming to work there and how engaged they all are in the trust's work. These are all vital to the trust to achieve outstanding care for its patients. The trust's new values and behaviours articulate how it as an organisation and as individuals should work. The trust's values demonstrate the qualities that it embodies and its new set of organisational behaviours detail how the trust demonstrates these values every day.
