

Members of the Review Body on Doctors' and Dentists' Remuneration (DDRB)

The Secretary of State for Health and Social Care is looking to appoint three Members to the Review Body on Doctors' and Dentists' Remuneration (DDRB).

As a member, you will play a key part in assessing the evidence of the Government, organisations representing the NHS, and organisations representing NHS doctors and dentists and making annual recommendations to the Government on the remuneration of doctors and dentists.

Of the three vacancies, one is for an economist member and one a Northern Ireland member. As a prospective candidate for the economist or Northern Ireland member vacancies, you must have experience in one of the following areas. Candidates with cross-over experience in both the below areas will also be welcomed:

- experience in a devolved context and/or demonstrable knowledge of and insight into the public sector workforce in Northern Ireland;
- proven senior level experience of economics in the academic and / or business world – with the ability to apply this expertise to labour market issues, with the necessary status and record of achievement.

For the third member vacancy, you must have:

- recent senior leadership experience in a health or care environment and an appreciation of remuneration arrangements – experience in or an understanding of primary care (medical or dental) is desirable.

Members are remunerated at a rate of £300 per day for a time commitment of approximately 15 meetings and 3 visits per year. The Secretary of State for Health and Social Care determines the length of appointment, which may be for up to a maximum of 4 years.
