A Message from the Minister for Women and Equalities

Thank you for your interest in becoming the Wales Commissioner of the Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC).

The EHRC is an independent body responsible for promoting and enforcing the laws that protect fairness, dignity and respect. It contributes to making and keeping Britain a fair society in which everyone, regardless of background, has an equal opportunity to fulfil their potential. The EHRC uses its unique powers to challenge discrimination, promote equality of opportunity and protect human rights.

The Wales Commissioner chairs a statutory Wales Committee with important functions. The Committee's main duties include advising the Commission about the exercise of its powers in so far as they affect Wales. The Committee has delegated powers under the Equality Act 2006 and can exercise specific powers of the EHRC in Wales, including those to provide information, advice and guidance and conduct research in Wales, and to advise the devolved Government for Wales about the effect of legislation affecting Wales. In addition, the Wales Committee is responsible for ensuring the Board is properly advised in the exercise of its other functions in Wales.

The following pages will tell you more about the purpose and the Commission and the nature of a Commissioner's role.

Applications are welcomed from as diverse a range of applicants and mix of backgrounds as possible. We seek candidates with a practical mind-set, energy, insight and the ability to operate strategically. You should have a good understanding of the social, economic and legal context of Wales, and a track record of driving progress on equalities and the credibility to challenge others.

If you believe you have the experience and qualities we are seeking and are committed to promoting equalities and human rights, we very much look forward to hearing from you.

The Rt Hon Elizabeth Truss MP

Diversity and Equality of opportunity

Diversity of opportunity is something the Cabinet Office cares passionately about.

Applications are encouraged from all candidates regardless of ethnicity, religion of belief, gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, or gender identity.

We particularly welcome applications from those who have not previously held public appointments. We want to explore the widest possible pool of talent for these important appointments.

Offering an Interview to Disabled People (Disability Confident)

As a Disability Confident employer, we will ensure that a fair and proportionate number of disabled applicants who meet the minimum criteria for this position will be offered an interview.

The Equality Act 2010 defines a person as disabled if they have a physical or mental impairment and the impairment has a substantial and long term adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities. If you wish to indicate that you are disabled or have a long-term health condition, please complete the Disability Confident - Offering an Interview to Disabled People declaration in the supporting documents and send it with your application.

It is important to note that upon receiving a high volume of applications, we would be expected to offer a proportionate number of interviews to disabled applicants that meet the minimum criteria for the job.

Reasonable Adjustments

If you have a disability and require reasonable adjustments to enable you to attend your interview, please advise us when you return your application or contact the EHRC Sponsorship Team EHRC.publicappointments@cabinetoffice.gov.uk or Pina Sadar, Head of the Equality Hub ALB Team, at pina.sadar@cabinetoffice.gov.uk.

Flexible working practices

The Equality and Human Rights Commission supports flexible working practices and as a national organisation has video conferencing available for communications between regional and central offices. However, its Board members need to be able to attend meetings and events, mostly held in London.

Background to the Organisation

The EHRC is Great Britain's national equality body and has been awarded an 'A' status as a National Human Rights Institution (NHRI) by the United Nations. Its role is to help make Britain fairer and it achieves this by safeguarding and enforcing the laws that protect people's rights to fairness, dignity and respect.

As a statutory non-departmental public body established by the Equality Act 2006, the Commission operates independently. It aims to be an expert and authoritative organisation that is a centre of excellence for evidence, analysis and equality and human rights law. The EHRC also aspires to be an essential point of contact for policy makers, public bodies and business.

The EHRC uses its unique powers to challenge discrimination, promote equality of opportunity and protect human rights.

For further information about the Commission, please visit its website at www.equalityhumanrights.com.

Size and composition of the Board

The Board of Commissioners is the highest level decision-making body in the organisation, responsible for the strategic oversight of the Commission.

The Board currently comprises 10 Members. Members of the Board are listed below and biographical information for each Board Member can be found on the EHRC's website.

- Kishwer, Baroness Falkner of Margravine (Chair)
- Caroline Waters OBE (Deputy Chair)
- Suzanne Baxter
- Jessica Butcher MBE
- Pavita Cooper
- David Goodhart
- Alasdair Henderson
- Susan Johnson OBE
- Helen Mahy CBE
- Mark McLane
- Bernard, Baron Ribeiro of Achimota (Ghana) and Ovington (Hants) CBE; FRCS
- Dr Lesley Sawers OBE (Scotland Commissioner)
- Su-Mei Thompson

The Board has a strategic oversight role. It does not directly manage the Commission's operations, but delegates that role to the CEO and the Commission's staff. It holds the CEO and the staff to account by monitoring performance against the Commission's strategic priorities and ensuring that resources are being used to good effect.

Further information on the EHRC and its activities, including its most recent annual report, can be found on the EHRC's website.

Role of the EHRC Wales Commissioner

The Secretary of State for International Trade and Minister for Women and Equalities wishes to appoint a Wales Commissioner to the Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC).

This appointment fulfils the requirements of the Equality Act 2006 that the membership of the Commission must include a Commissioner who knows about conditions in Wales (the "Wales Commissioner"). This appointment will be made with the consent of Welsh Ministers.

Appointments to the EHRC are for between 2 and 5 years. Following recommendations of the Tailored Review of the EHRC in July 2018, Commissioners' terms are likely to be a minimum of 3 years.

The roles and responsibilities of EHRC Commissioners are set out in the Commission's Governance Manual.

Commissioners are responsible for:

- working with the Chair and Chief Executive to set the strategic direction of the EHRC;
- scrutinising the EHRC's performance, and supporting the Chair in holding the Chief Executive to account; and
- complying at all times with the Cabinet Office's Code of Conduct for Board Members of Public Bodies (2011) and the EHRC's Code of Conduct and conflicts of interest guidance (Part 4 of the EHRC's Governance Manual).

In addition to the responsibilities of EHRC Commissioners, as set out in the Commission's Governance Manual, the Wales Commissioner has particular responsibilities on the following matters:

- Chairing the Wales Committee;
- Engaging with other EHRC committees and working groups on Wales and GB-wide matters;
- Contributing to the process of advising the Welsh Government on the effectiveness of equality and human rights law, and the implications of any proposed legislative changes on equality and human rights as they relate to Wales;
- Contributing to the development of the EHRC's annual report, strategic plan and business priorities for Wales;
- Representing the EHRC in Wales including stakeholder and community engagement to further the EHRC's priorities.

It is envisaged the successful candidate will take up the role in December 2021.

Person specification and eligibility criteria

- The ability to build constructive relationships and influence at the highest level, and to act as an ambassador for the Commission, particularly in Wales, working with key stakeholders and promoting the organisation's role and aims to the public and a wide range of partners;
- The ability to provide strategic, knowledgeable, impartial and balanced perspectives on a range of sensitive and complex issues and to contribute to the development of strategic priorities, weighing up competing arguments capable of justification under close scrutiny;
- A commitment to and knowledge or experience of equality and human rights;
- An understanding of the context in which the Commission operates (the Commission's responsibilities and mandate covers the different nations of Great Britain) and knowledge of conditions in Wales and their relationship to policy elsewhere in Great Britain;
- High standards of integrity, commitment to public service values, and an understanding of the principles and practices of corporate governance

Desirable criteria

Applicants will be assessed against these criteria in their application and any subsequent interview.

There must be no employment restrictions, or limit on your permitted stay in the UK.

Conditions of appointment

Remuneration, allowances and abatement

- Reasonable standard travel expenses will be payable.
- The post is not pensionable.

Appointment and tenure of office

Board Members are appointed by the Minister for Women and Equalities. Appointments to the EHRC are for between 2 and 5 years. Following recommendations of the Tailored Review of the EHRC in July 2018, Commissioners' terms are likely to be a minimum of 3 years, with the possibility of re-appointment for a further term, at the discretion of Ministers. Any re-appointment is subject to satisfactory annual appraisals of performance during the first term in the post. If re-appointed, the total time served in post will not exceed more than two terms.

It will be important that a Member's other commitments do not cast any doubt on their ability to act independently and impartially in discharging the role; any potential conflict of interest must be declared.

All Board Members are required to adhere to:

- The Cabinet Office Code of Conduct for Board Members of Public Bodies
- The Seven Principles of Public Life

Standards in public life, political activity, disqualification from appointment and conflicts of interests

Standards in public life

Members of the EHRC will need to confirm that they understand the standards of probity required of public appointees outlined in the "Seven Principles of Public Life" drawn up by the Committee on Standards in Public Life.

Political Activity

Members of the EHRC will need to show political impartiality during their time on the EHRC Board and must declare any party political activity they undertake in the period of their appointment.

Due to the nature of the EHRC it is not appropriate for members of the EHRC to occupy paid party political posts or hold sensitive, senior or prominent positions in any political organisation. Nomination for election to political office, for example, the House of Commons, the Northern Ireland Assembly, Scottish Parliament, the European Parliament, is not considered compatible with membership of the EHRC.

Subject to the above, Board members are free to engage in political activities, provided that they are conscious of their general responsibilities and standards for public life and exercise proper discretion.

You are required to fill out a Political Activity Declaration as part of your application, which will be kept separate from your application and will only be seen by the selection panel prior to interview. However, it is appreciated that such activities may have given you relevant skills, including experience gained from committee work, collective decision-making, resolving conflict and public speaking. If, therefore, you have had such experience and you consider it relevant to your application for this post, you should include it separately in the main body of your application.

If you are successfully appointed to the post, details of your response to the Political Activity Declaration will be included in any announcement of your appointment.

Disqualification from appointment

Anyone in the categories listed below will not be considered for appointment as Board Member of the EHRC (also see 'Political Activity' above):

- Employed in the civil service of the state
- Unspent criminal convictions
- Bankruptcy
- Disqualification as a company director.

Conflict of Interests

Public bodies are expected to maintain a register of members' interests to avoid any danger of the Board Member being influenced - or appearing to be influenced - by their private interests in the exercise of their public duties. Candidates invited to interview will be questioned about any real or perceived conflicts of interest. These do not constitute an automatic bar to appointment, but they must be manageable.
